Now that the financial backer for the project has informed Bob Bisno and investors in his Limited Liability Corporation that they are no longer going to back development of the project, the entire article is just a moot story.

All the agreements Bob has made between the Unions, the Little League, and even Mary Star are not worth the time, paper, and ink used up to create them in the first place.

Bob is planning on taking whatever entitlements he is granted, selling them off if he can, and leaving the area faster than he arrived.

None of the workforce housing or housing for seniors will ever be built using Bisno's plans, in my opinion.

"Fool me once, shame on you. Fool me twice....you won't get fooled again." President George W. Bush. Fool me once, shame on you. Fool me twice, shame on me. I won't be ashamed, will you?

allen i think it's an anachronism that anyone thinks they can build 1,950 units in today's traffic-clogged city.

Ponte Vista is a bad idea for San Pedro.

Greg M 1. Gaffey street is already a parking lot even without the 3500+ cars that will be coming every morning and night.

Redondo Beach, CA 2. Dana Middle School and San Pedro High and already broke and need to be fixed. Adding another 1000-1500 children will certainly not help this problem.

3. The property is only zoned for 500 homes, NOT 2300, NOT 1950, NOT even 1300!!!

4. Bob does not live in San Pedro and does not care about the problems he will create as long as he can make money off of those stupid enough to want to live in ULTRA HIGH DENSITY PONTE VISTA!!!

I love that Bob's attorney said that there is no R-1 housing being built in California. Has he been to the Inland Empire or Orange County lately? Northern California? How about Beverly Hills? Why, that place is thick with multi-unit dwellings, ain't it?

Want to make everyone happy but the developers? Don't build the Angel's Gate High School, build the Ponte Vista High School. The school would be closer to the freeway so the kids we're bussing in from god knows where won't have to leave a trail of diesel fumes through the whole city while they're creeping through traffic.

What part of NO don't these people understand?

The McCowan "area" residents fought successfully and so should we.

I live near Cabrillo Beach, but I drive Western Avenue nearly daily for work and shopping. Its absolutely ridiculous.....way too many cars already. We don't need anymore, even if they do "synchronize" the lights.

Remember supporters of Bisno, we are talking TWO cars at a minimum, per house.
Hmm....2,000 houses, 4,000 more cars on Pedro roads. And more if they have teenage children
!!!

Don't let developers, who have no stake in this city except their pocket book, take over.

And if you are with EVLL - please don't make the mistake of supporting Bisno for a ballfield.
