

Estrada works hard for Lomita

In Tuesday's Your Views section of the Daily Breeze the current mayor of Lomita is being praised by Erin Rice and Matt Johnson, for his entertainment value to the city, namely the fireworks at Lomita Park and the Dodgers Night at the stadium. Lomita has had fireworks to celebrate Founders Day for many years, long before this mayor came to Lomita.

Also, there have been many Dodgers Nights for Lomita long before this mayor came to Lomita. We have also had parades.

Johnson criticized Mayor Pro Tem Margaret Estrada for not showing up at these events. Perhaps she has better things to do. If they would look around our city, they would see her delivering Meals on Wheels to shut-ins, responding to concerns of the residents of Harbor Hills, responding to the neighbors in Rolling Ranchos when they have been concerned about a halfway house, promoting preparedness programs to prepare our citizens for emergencies, or at the Lomita Library supporting and raising money for its programs, or at the sheriff's station and fire station supporting those who protect us, to list just a few of her many community activities.

Our current mayor seems more concerned about promoting himself through giveaways and entertainment than in protecting the concerns of our city.
